DAILY PUZZLES CONFERENCE WILL ADJOURN TO-DAY

Business About Completed and Appointments Will Be Announced This Morning.

Ispecial to The Times-Dispatoh.]

Elizabeth City, N. C., December 4.—
The love feast of the North Carolina Methodist Conference began this morning at 9:39 o'clock, and when the hour arrived the church was filled with preachors, laymen and visitors. Rev. A. D. Betts D. D., and Rev. W. H. Moore, D. D., conducted the services Dr. Betts has been a member of the conference for fifty-eight years, and while he has sustained the superannuated relation for the past two years, he is still active in the worder of the conference for fifty-eight years, and in different ways performing acts of Christian service. He is known as "Uncle Betts" to the entire conference, and he is a man whose life has been such as to render him one in whom preachers, laymen and the entire members of the conference have confidence. No man in the conference is loved more sincerely and more universally, Dr. Moore has been a member of the conference for fifty years, and is yet in the active service of the church. He has been a presiding elder for twenty-four years successively, and is recognized as one of the ablest members of the conference.

Every moment of the time allotted to the love feast was occupied with singing, praying and testimony.

Bishop Hendrix read as the Scripture lessons, preliminary to his sermon at 11 o'clock, the First Psalm and a part of the fifth chapter of Matthew. At the close of his sermon Bishop Hendrix ordained a class of six ministers to the order of deacon and a class of eleven to the order of elder. Rev. R. B. John and Rev. J. H. Cole assisted him in the ordination service.

The conference memorial service was held this afternoon. Four members of the conference have died during the year just closed—Rev. R. A. Willis, Rev. B. B. Holder, Rev. N. H. Guyton and Rev. W. S. Davis. Memoirs were Members of the conference paid verbal tribute to the life and work of those who had died.

Members of the conference preached in most of the pulpits of this city both this morning and this evening.

The conference will adjourn with the morning session to morrow. Aside from the reading of the appointments very little remains to be done before adjournment. The only reports to be submitted and adopted are those of the joint board of finance and the board of education.

Resolutions of thanks will be adopted, and maybe a few other resolutions also. Not many changes in the appointments are anticipated except where the time limit compels change. It is expected that three of the presiding elders whose time has expired in the districts they have just served will be placed back in the pastorate, these three being W. H. Moore, of the Rockingham district, and R. H. Brown, of the Elizabeth City district. Conference rumor says, these presiding elders will be succeeded by K. D. Holmes, J. H. Hall and G. T. Adams. Removal to Roanoke.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Roanoke, Va., December 4,—The Marion Femsle College, an institution supported by the Lutheran Church of Virginia, and liberally patronized by members of that denomination in a number of other States, is likely to remain at Marion, Va., for the present at least, Because of old buildings and insufficient accommodations for the students, the Synods of Virginia and Southwestern Virginia met here two weeks ago and decided to move the school to Salem, that town and the citizens of Roanoke offering as special inducements to secure the school for Salem, that town and and $10,000 in cash. The joint committee of synods ordered the removal, and thereupon the board of trustees of the college dissented. At a meeting of the board two days ago a resolution was adopted, which declared that while the board had the highest respect for the committee, still it could not obey the order, because of certain contracts and laws that prohibit the removal of the college from Marlon. On top of this comes the resignation of the president of the college. Rev. John C. Peery, who was elected to the position of executive head and financial agent of the institution last summer. The differences between the board of trustees and the committee in reference to the removal of the school caused the president to quit. Who will succeed him is not known. What action the synods will take in the matter of moving the school is also to be seen. The elient is but one other Lutheran college in the South, the school at Monterey, N. C.
